MEMORANDUM FOR: Members of the Intelligence Research and Development Council

FROM:

Executive Secretary

25X1

SUBJECT:

Revised IR&DC Director of Central Intelligence
Directive (DCID)

1. Attached for your consideration is a draft of a revised IR&DC DCID. Admiral Inman has asked, in light of the new Executive Order concerning intelligence and the development of new emphases, that a review be made of the DCIDs. As you may recall, DCIDs are what the DCI uses to charter his various councils and committees. (C)

2. Admiral Inman and Dr. DeLauer have reviewed the proposed draft. I would appreciate your comments, if you wish, by 17 February. (C)

DCID No. 1/12

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE NO. 1/12

INTELLIGENCE RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

(Effective 18 April 1978)

1. Pursuant to the responsibilities assigned to the Director of Central Intelligence in Executive Order 12036, "United States Foreign Intelligence Activities," dated 24 January 1978, the Intelligence Research and Development Council (IR&DC) is hereby established as a permanent committee advisory to the Director of Central Intelligence.

2. Mission

The Intelligence Research and Development Council shall explore new directions and techniques in both the hard and soft sciences which hold promise for intelligence and identify those it recommends for program resource support and application. The Council shall maintain a continuing knowledge of the allocation and uses of R&D resources within the Federal Government related to intelligence and advise the Director of Central Intelligence on R&D strategy and technologies that will best contribute to the attainment of national intelligence objectives.

3. Functions

It shall be the function of the Intelligence Research and Development Council to:

a. Review national intelligence R&D programs and advise the Director of Central Intelligence regarding their effectiveness in satisfying intelligence goals and objectives.

b. Identify those technology areas in both the hard and soft sciences where intelligence needs are unique and for which intelligence program support is required for development.

c. Review the rationale and perspective for proposed intelligence R&D in the context of present and emerging technology and analytic methodology; advise the Director of Central Intelligence as to the recommended funding level options for R&D in the National Intelligence Program; and indicate what R&D in support of intelligence objectives can be accomplished within the National Intelligence Program and by other funding sources.

d. Establish and maintain appropriate means of continuing inter-program communications of technical results, concepts and plans in critical technologies, including analytic methodologies.
